Almost New Shop Opens for Third Season

Freshly cleaned and pressed for fall are the clothing selections at Christ Church's Almost New Shop. Volunteers Pat, Audrey and Susan are ready to reopen the doors on Wednesday, Sept. 14 at 10 a.m.

"We are thrilled to have our shop right here on the church grounds and with a new sign to make it more visible for the public," stated Manager Audrey Eisser.

"The quantity and variety of items we have to offer have increased so that we have recently expanded to the second floor of the building as well." The building she refers to is a blue house located at 1355 Northern Blvd., which can be seen from across the Manhasset Center parking lot. People of the parish and community have been generous with donations of items to the shop such as bric-a-brac, kitchen goods, as well as gently-used seasonal clothing for men, women and children. Customers of all ages are seen making repeat visits as new merchandise is placed on display on a continual basis.

"I enjoy chatting with the customers while helping them with their purchases," remarked Pat, a dedicated worker three days each week. Other volunteers help make the shop run smoothly, such as Susan, who also cleans and polishes items for display. More help is needed, however, and if you have even two hours to spare, please call 627-2184 or when the shop is open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, call the shop directly at 365-4321.
